The Auditor's office was closed yesterday, through re-spect to his memory.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—John S. Kirk, a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad, met with a serious accident at Pittsburgh on Monday afternoon: He was coming out of the round house at 26th street, just as a train was passing on the Allegheny railroad; not noticing the engine he was knocked down and run over, the wheels cutting off one of his legs just below the knee. Kirk is a son-in-law of Mr. Robert McAdams, of this city, and was formerly a baggage master on the old Hempfield road.

A Young gentleman yesterday remarked, wonderingly, how a young lady could make herself ridiculous by yielding to the vagaries of fashion. Then the wind caught him by the new style of shirt collar, on which his hat rested, and he was obliged to entwine both arms around a telegraph nole to prevent heing around a telegraph pole to prevent being wafted over a neighboring roof.

after a brief courtship, they were married on the 20th day of April.

The honeymoon was even shorter than the courtship. Before the expiration of a month Mrs. Collins entered suit against her husband for divorce and alimony, as the door of one of the offices of the town, and dodge the issue. He had his stock of goods packed up and transported to the depot, when the Sheriff levied on the goods and took him into custody.

According to the affidavit of Mrs. Collins, before she had been a wife twenty foue hours her husband grossly insulted her by questioning her virtue, and did so repeatedly during the time they lived together, when they were boarding with her mother. Further, that he used such insulting language toward her that she went to her mother on Thursday last and told her all about it, when Mrs. Steel promptly ejected her son-in-law from the house. Proceedings were then instituted for divorce and alimony, as altered at the custody of the Sheriff, while he was allowed to depart. Mrs. Collins is said to be a very estimable young lady.

Rose Eytinge.—Of Miss Rose Eytinge, who plays here in "Miss Multon" next week, the New York Herall says:

In society pieces Miss Eytinge never had a superior. Her talent amounts to genius, all her personations being at once earnest, life-like, and in the highest degree artislic. She at all times commands the situation, and has all the vitality necessary to the proper development of any idea the author may suggest. Rose Eytinge is not a copyist. She draws on nature—a bank that never fails to respond to those who have the courage to prefer truth to conventionality. Miss Eytinge never exaggerates, never colors her portraits too deeply. People who prefer mind to paint will always find in Rose Eytinge an artist worthy of their most generous applause.

FALSE IMPRESION.—It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that Dyspepsia can not invaribly be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S ADOUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomachs, Costiveness, Sick Headache, palpitation of the Heart, low spirits, &c. &c. Out of 30,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggiats of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottle 10 cents. Hegular Size 75 cents. For sale by Logan, List & Co., and Laughlin Bros. & Co.
